MUSIC FROM FIERY PIT

Gives Dance

Heaven can't be much more fun than Hades was Friday night.

A huge sign over the west library door read "All Hope Abandon Ye Who Enter In." Those who agree to abandon hope and enter found themselves in Hades. They were confronted with red devils dancing all over the black walls of the "lower regions." Music issued forth from a fiery pit at one end of the cavern. Hot air pushed the red and black balloons to the ceiling.

The gentlemen of the cloven hoof and forked tail urged the lost souls to join in the dancing and card playing. He showed them specialty numbers hot from the fiery furnaces. One of his demons did a solo dance for the entertainment of the guests of the Master of Ceremonies.

When the revelers began to become overheated, Eskimo Pies were served. It was necessary to eat them hurriedly because they melted rapidly in the sulphurous atmosphere.

Toward the end of the evening the balloons were released from the ceiling and captured by the guests to keep for favors. The newly organized College orchestra, in its first appearance, furnished music for dancing. Mary Frances Sutton gave the Demon dance and Carlyle Breckenridge was the Master of Ceremonies.

The social committee was in charge of the party. Jean Montgomery, senior, is chairman of the committee. The other members are Harold Person and Virginia Coe, seniors; Carlyle Breckenridge and Elizabeth Adams.

The President Says.....

The Teachers College at Maryville is a state institution maintained by the people of Missouri. High school seniors should know about the state and about its institutions and agencies. We, therefore, welcome them to this College.

Next year as many of them as possible should be in some college or university. If we can serve your interests best, we should be glad to see you here. If some other college can render you better service than we, you should go there.

At any rate, you should understand that in the future as at present the man or the woman who has had college training has an advantage over the one who does not. You are invited to visit our campus and the class rooms, to go into the various buildings and see what is being done in a regular day's work primarily because it is an institution which belongs to the state and you are interested in all of the state's activities.

UEL W. LAMKIN,
President

Program Complete for Entertainment of Visiting Seniors from Northwestern Missouri In Second Annual Event

Advance reports show that more than 1,000 northwest Missouri high school seniors will be at the College today in observance of the second annual High School Senior Day, an event planned especially for the graduating classes of the high schools in this section of the state.

Fifty-eight high schools of northwest Missouri will be represented by parts of or their entire senior classes.

The three high schools whose representatives have travelled the greatest distance in order to be present today are Mercer, Princeton and Hamilton. Mercer, the most distant, is located one hundred miles east of Maryville.

Many schools are bringing large numbers of students representing their senior classes. Maryville high is sending 88 seniors. Maysville is planning on bringing the largest number of students of any school outside of Maryville, Stanberry is second, with Grant City, Albany, and Princeton tying for third place.

The observance of High School Senior Day is the result of a plan started last year by Mr. Stephen LaMar, then director of publicity at the College. This year, Dr. O. Myking Mehus has had charge of the arrangements for the day, and the response to his invitations to attend this second Day drew an immediate response from a large percentage of high schools.

Chairman of Senior Day

The guests will be on the campus all day. The time will be used to visit the various classes which will be in session as usual, and in viewing the interesting and educational points of interest to be found in and around the College. Tours about the campus and buildings will be conducted by a corps of College students who are familiar with the plan of the day.

Two assemblies for the seniors' entertainment will take place this morning, one to commence at 9 and the other to commence at 11:30. After the seniors have been served lunch, motion pictures will be taken of the seniors. The pictures will be shown during the spring contests, April 24-25. This afternoon there will be life saving demonstrations and diving and swimming exhibitions in the College pool.

Many of the departments of the College have arranged special exhibits for the day. Miss Katherine Helwig of the mathematics department has charge of the scientific exhibitions.

Catterson Elected President Mississippi Valley International Relations Conference

Lorace Catterson was elected president of the Mississippi Valley conference of International Relations Clubs at a recent meeting of the organizations held in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Lucile Lindberg was elected corresponding secretary, and Warren Corv was elected vice-president of the organization at the recent conference.

Other officers elected were Nicholas Pusak, vice-president, and Adeline Swenson, of South Dakota Wesleyan, secretary.

International relations enthusiasts who attend the College next year will have the opportunity of attending meetings of the conference at the College, for the Mississippi Valley conference sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace voted to bring the meeting here in 1937. The conference voted the decision at the final session Saturday, March 28, after Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, director, read the invitation from President Uel W. Lamkin, urging that Maryville be selected. Warren Crow welcomed the group to come here.

Four delegates of the College—Lucile Lindberg, Lorace Catterson, Harry Lyle, and Warren

Crow—who took part in the program of the conference, and Dr. Henry A. Foster, chairman of the department of social science, were highly commended upon their research on the question, "The International Labor (Continued on page 5)

Seniors to See Campus; Tours Are Arranged

Specially instructed College students are taking the visiting high school seniors through the College buildings and over the campus today to call their attention to some of the most interesting features for which the College is known. While a general all-inclusive tour over the campus and through the buildings has been arranged, student groups may elect to take specific trips to particular points of interest.

The guides have been working under the direction of Mr. Hugh G. Wales, of the faculty of the Commerce Department, who has aided them in getting facts and (Continued on page 8)

Cooper Resigns Irwin the New Feature Editor

Everett Irwin, a junior in the College, was appointed this week by the Student Senate to the position of feature editor on the staff of the Northwest Missourian.

Irwin succeeds Densil Cooper, formerly feature editor of the newspaper, who sent his resignation to the senate last week. Cooper is carrying excess credit this quarter, and time does not permit him to carry out his duties in the feature editor position.

Everett Irwin has been a constant contributor to this newspaper, both of news and feature articles, since the beginning of the Fall quarter and he is fully capable of his recent appointment.

The Northwest Missourian is the official weekly College paper. It was first published November 4, 1914 as "The Green and White Courier" of the State Normal School. It was published once every two weeks during the first years of its existence, being made a weekly in 1919.

With the first issue of the 1926-27 school year, the publication assumed its present name. The "Missourian" is now in its third year under the control of the Student Senate. The four editors are chosen by the Senate from members of the staff.

The Northwest Missourian records the activities of the College. It is distributed to the faculty and students of the College, and is sent to every newspaper office and high school library in the Northwest Missouri District, and to many in Iowa. Each student may send the paper to his parents or to a friend.

Members of the staff are recruited from the student body. They are given training in journalistic forms of writing, as well as activity credit. Twenty students are contributors to the paper this year.

The Northwest Missourian is a member of the Missouri Collegiate Press Association, which holds an annual meeting during Journalism Week each May in Columbia. It has been the custom of the College to send delegates to this meeting (Continued on page 8)

Social Events

Junior-Senior Prom To Be April 18.

The Junior-Senior Prom, major social event of the Spring quarter, will be held April 18.

The dance, which will be formal, is to be in the West Library beginning at 9:00 o'clock. The theme of the dance will not be disclosed by the Junior committee until the night of the dance.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wright, Miss Ruth Millet and Mr. M. W. Wilson.

The Junior class is in charge of the party as has been the custom. The Junior committee, with the aid of Miss Millet and Mr. Wilson, are working on plans to make this event one to be remembered.

Norma Ruth Logan is chairman of the invitation committee and Louise Gutting is chairman of the refreshment committee. Elizabeth Adams and Carlyle Breckenridge are in charge of the decorations, while George Nixon and Marian Maloy are making arrangements for the orchestra. The committee was appointed by Vernon Green of Independence who is president of the class.

Seniors To Be Served Lunch at Noon

Another high point for the seniors today will be a luncheon given by the College. This is a feature of the day planned to make our visitors feel at home, and to give them a taste of College life.

The seniors will go from the Auditorium to rooms 101, 103, 115, and 126, get their lunch, and return to the Auditorium to eat. Miss Estelle Campbell, the dietitian at Residence Hall, is in charge of the meal. Miss Margaret Stephenson, director of women's activities, is the chairman of the faculty committee in charge of serving. Miss Katherine Helwig, Miss Minnie B. James, and Miss Ruth Millett are members of the committee.

The band will play in the auditorium during the noon hour.

Students Saw "The Old Maid" in Kansas City

Miss Margaret Stephenson, director of women's activities, accompanied a group of students to Kansas City, Saturday to see the play "The Old Maid."

The play was taken from Edith Wharton's book of the same title. Judith Anderson and Helen Menken were starred in it. The story portrayed New York society of a hundred years ago. The stage settings and costumes were very authentic and were artistically designed. The setting for the second act was especially attractive with its mellow Empire furniture, crystal chandeliers, firelight and candle-light.

Those who went from the College were very enthusiastic in their praise of the entertainment. Many opportunities like this have come to College students during the year. The bus has been used several times to take students to Kansas City or St. Joseph to hear prominent and interesting persons or dramatic or musical productions.

Announcement is Made of the Marriage of Former Student

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Hahn of Craig, Missouri, to Mr. Alexander Owens of that city, Sunday March 29. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the First Methodist church in Maryville, with the Rev. V. C. Clark in charge.

The couple were accompanied by Miss Colleen Combs, Corning, Missouri, and Mr. Jewel Childers of Paducah, Ky. Mrs. Owens is a former student of the College, having attended during the school years of 1930-'31 and 1931-'32. For the past two or three years she has been teaching in the schools of Craig.

Students Staged Dance Last Tuesday.

Students danced their cares away at an informal dance given by "Cody's Dance Band" Tuesday afternoon, March 31, from 4:00 to 5:30 in Social Hall. The band, newly organized, will play for a dance for the High School Seniors today in Social Hall from 12:30 until 2:00.

Members of the band are Raymond Smith, saxophone and clarinet; Marion Insley, baritone saxophone and clarinet; Morris Cook, saxophone and clarinet; Cody Grimes, guitar and tenor banjo; Ed Russell, drums; Ramona Troxell, piano; Junior Robey, trumpet; and A. J. Whittiers, trumpet.

The High School English department presented the High School assembly Monday afternoon in the auditorium. Edna Mary Monk led the group singing. English students then appeared reading book reports, themes, and stories. The climax of the program was a panel discussion, "Should we study modern literature?", given by the Junior girls.

Pi Gamma Mu extends a hearty welcome to the seniors visiting the College today. This national honorary scholastic fraternity which is attempting to foster a scientific attitude in the study of social problems hopes that every one of you will be interested in the people about you to the extent that you will be willing to sacrifice some of your time and energy to the promotion of better social conditions. Only students who have maintained a high scholastic average in social science are eligible to membership.

Alumni Notes

Mr. H. W. Brueggman, superintendent of schools at Tournay, with a group of teachers from the Tournay schools, attended the conference on elementary education held at the College on Saturday, March 28. While here, he arranged with Mr. Cooper to give the class address this spring.

Mr. Vance E. Geiger, principal and coach of the Hopkins high school, was a visitor at the College last Saturday.

Miss Georgia Gromer, who teaches geography and science in the junior high school at McFall, Missouri, was a visitor at the College last Friday, March 27. Miss Gromer won honor for the McFall schools at the county superintendence convention in Jefferson City with a geography project she has been carrying out the past year. The project was presented at Jefferson City by Mr. Delmas Liggett, Gentry county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Douglas Linville, superintendent of schools at Bolckow, attended the conference on elementary education at the College on Saturday, March 28.

Mr. Howard W. Leach, superintendent of schools at Odessa, attended the conference on elementary education held at the College on Saturday, March 28. Mr. Leach visited with relatives and friends at Pickering Saturday night and Sunday.

Other visitors at the College Saturday included Mr. L. A. Zelfiff, superintendent of schools at Stanberry; Miss Maxine Esely, Fillmore, Missouri; and Miss Helen Grace Goodson, who is teaching at Tabor, Iowa.

Miss Ula Pierce, of Rosendale, who has been teaching in New Mexico, is at her home on leave of absence because of the illness of her father. She has leave until July 1.

Dr. O. Myking Mehus is in receipt of a letter from Russel Hurley, a former student of the College now living in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Hurley states that he is working on the M.A. degree in social work, and that he will receive the degree in American history this June. He is paying his expenses by working on the campus of the University of Southern California and by doing research work. Mr. Hurley states that he meets two former Maryville people quite often—Sarah Frances Rowlett and E. C. Kelly—also on the campus at California.

Writers' Club is Popular Activity

One of the College's interesting informal organizations is the Writer's Club. Students interested in writing find the fortnightly meetings a delightful outlet for their literary inclinations. Essays, short stories, editorials, plays and poetry are invited to be placed in the manuscript box. At each meeting the manuscripts are read and criticized impartially. This constructive reviewing enables the young author to improve his quality of writing. The club hopes to publish a book of college literary efforts in the near future.

Residence Hall is the Social Center

Regardless of the "cool snap" in the weather last week, social forecasters and broadcasters have braved the chill for a sufficient amount of time to promise us smooth sailing in the social future, and to review briefly the gaieties of the past year.

FRANCES TOLBERT
President, Residence Hall

Security in the social future is promised Residence Hall by the newly elected council members. Those who will bear faithfully the gay banners are Maxine Middleton, Virginia Lee Danford, Dorothy Wort, Elizabeth Adams, Martha Mae Holmes, Mary Jane Newlon, Lucy Mae Benson, Emma Jean Corrington, and Ruth Ellen Bennett.

The Hall opened the social season last fall with a formal tea welcoming Miss Helen Haggerty, Miss Miriam Waggoner, and Miss Marian Kerr to the College faculty. The series of gay events following wove formal dinners, cozies and pajama breakfasts, into the pattern of school life for the women at the Hall. Winter evenings, when the thermometer registered a "blazing" twenty below, the women gathered about the fireplace and forgot the cold as they sang, danced, or read poetry. Cozies and pajama breakfasts did not altogether dominate the informal gatherings.

Who can forget the good times when indoor picnics were the vogue? The Christmas season abounded in colorful festivities. Gay laughter and happy faces predominated when Residence Hall heralded the Yule-tide season with the customary "Hanging of the Greens." This was followed by a number of gay Christmas formal, the annual Christmas buffet supper for faculty guests, the formal Christmas reception on Sunday evening, and the final dinner after which the gift to the Nursery School was presented.

Dancing every evening from 7 until 8 o'clock provided recreation and the Thanksgiving dance climaxed the fall quarter.

The new council members will be kept busy if the Spring season at Residence Hall is to be as gay as the winter months.

TENNIS VETERANS

Verne Campbell and Elbert Barrett

The Maryville golf and tennis teams have not fared so well at the conference meets for the past several years, so there has been a general roundup of the enthusiasts of both sports.

When spring weather gets here there will be many men out for both sports and the College hopes to have a representative team in each.

Twenty-Five Active Clubs Keep Interesting Times On Campus

According to a recent survey conducted on the College campus, it was found that there are at the present time twenty-five active organizations in operation, in addition to several musical, dramatic, and debating groups. Each of the organizations deals with an aspect of College life which helps to round out the students' education.

Organizations most active on the campus sponsor, during the year, activities which should be of interest to each of their members—either social or scholastic.

The greater number of the twenty-four organizations hold meetings at least once a week during the term. It is the usual custom for each organization to sponsor some social event or events during the year for the benefit of either school.

Freshmen in the College are invited to join one of the greater number of the organizations upon their enrollment in the College. Many organizations, however, such as the Student Senate, require that the student be elected to serve within its body.

A seat on the Student Senate offers the student one of the highest honors he can obtain while attending the College. New Senators are elected each quarter by the classes, except the president and vice-president, who are elected once each year by the student body at large. Dean Miller of Maryville is president and Max Seyster of Maryville is vice-president of the Senate, and automatically of the student body, for 1935-36.

Eugene Huff of Rushville is president of the Social Science club, a club which studies problems in the field of social science. Louise Bauer of Stewartsville, who, incidentally, is secretary-treasurer of the Senate, is president of the dramatics club on the campus known as the O'Neillian Club.

Sylvester Keefe of Lansford, South Dakota is president of the Newman Club—a religious organization for Catholic students of the College. The Newman Club has a large club house located on West Third street in Maryville.

Three pep organizations are active at each athletic event in which the famous Maryville Bearcats engage, and they include the Growlers, the Barkatze and the Green and White Peppers. Verne Campbell of Tarkio is president of the men's Growler pep squad; Carlyle Breckenridge of Turney is president of the men and women's pep squad, the Barkatze; and Marian Maloy of Redding, Iowa is president of the women's Green and White Peppers organization.

Pi Omega Pi, the honorary commercial fraternity of the College, has as its president Beatrice Lemon, of Maryville. Charlotte Leet of Maryville is at the head of Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics fraternity located on the campus.

Alpha Phi Epsilon, the national honorary scholastic fraternity on the campus, is presided over by C. F. Gray of Sheridan, and Alpha Epsilon Psi, the music fraternity of the College, is headed by Robert Lawrence of Maryville.

One of the outstanding clubs on the campus is the Y.M.C.A. The purpose of this club is to spread Christianity throughout the world. Members of high school Hi-Y clubs usually become members when they come to college. One of the big undertakings of this organization is its gospel team work. In the past few years the Y.M.C.A. has sent out a gospel team once a month to conduct services in some church in the northwest Missouri district. Alex Sawyer of Maysville is president of the "Y".

A like organization is the Y.W.C.A.. The association here is a member of a vast international movement. Many of the recreational activities of this organization are held at the Y. W. "Hut" in the College Park. Monica Lash of Rosendale is president of the YW.

The Women's Athletic Association sponsors athletics for College women and includes the following activities: soccer, hockey, volleyball, basketball, swimming, baseball, tennis, track, and hiking. Jessie Jutten of St. Joseph is president of the WAA. The "M" club is an organization made up of men who have earned their M in College athletics. Walter Rulon of Shenandoah, Iowa, is president of the M men.

Elbert Barrett of Maryville is president of the Industrial Arts Club. Those interested in Industrial Arts have the club which meets once a week to discuss new developments in that field.

Women in the College who are interested in primary education have a club known as the Association for Childhood Education. Barbara Zellar of Oregon is president of the ACE. Robert Tracy of Hubbard, Ohio, is president of the organization of men working at the College cafeteria in Residence Hall, the Hash Slingers' Union.

The oldest departmental club on the campus is the Art club, which offers valuable information to art students. The Writer's club furnishes valuable information to students interested in literature.

Social fraternities and sororities on the campus which hold meetings at least once a week, and several big social events during the term include: Sigma Tau Gamma, fraternity, Ford Bradley of Maryville, president; Sigma Mu Delta, fraternity, Harold Bird of Kansas City, president; Sigma Sigma Sigma, sorority, Virginia Coe of Maryville, president; Alpha Sigma Alpha, sorority, Barbara Zellar of Oregon, president.

Frances Tolbert of Gallatin is president of the Residence Hall board. Frederick Schneider of Stanberry is editor of the College paper, and acts as president of the Northwest Missourian press club.

Poppy Day Posters By Art Department

Representations of poppies both red and yellow, disabled veterans, soldiers at attention, bayonets, the American flag—all these things are featured in the Poppy Day posters made by the Commercial Art Class which are on display in the case by the center stairway on second floor. Striking ways of calling attention to the necessity of helping the veterans have been devised by the students. The poster by Virgil Elliott, of Barnard, catches the eye by the use of a group of red-black bayonets in the lower right pointing and leading toward the lettering above. The foreground is made distinct by the light values used in background.

Marion Insley, of Maryville, places a soldier impressively in front of the American flag, the white lettering standing out plainly on the background made by the blue field. Designs of red poppies form the theme in the posters of Florence Petersen, Maryville, and Florence McIntosh, Villisca. Mrs. Fone Riley, Maryville, used values of purple arranged to bring out the shadowy silhouette of a man's head and to lead to the lettering, "Help Them, They Helped Us." Ruth Minnick, Lock Springs, and Edith Wilson, Oregon, appeal for the sympathy of the observer by picturing the disabled veteran.

Eunice Scott, Weston, features yellow poppies and in the background small heads of soldiers in silhouette serve to remind one of the meaning of Poppy Day.

Other exhibits are on display on fourth floor and another on second floor in front of the book store.

The Department of Fine Arts aims to prepare students for the teaching of art and to give preliminary training to those who wish to study art. Two or three years may be profitably spent in the department before going elsewhere for specialization. Miss DeLuce, chairman of the department, has studied abroad and has exhibited paintings in St. Louis, Chicago, New York, Kansas City and in other large cities.

Miss Carrie Hopkins, instructor in the art department, studied in Chicago and specialized in the teaching of children's art.

The department has turned out many successful students. Miss Dorothy Babb is doing creditable work in St. Louis, Miss Ruth Foster heads the art department in the State Teachers College in Wisconsin, Miss Tillie Houts supervises art in five grade schools, and teaches three classes of art in high school.

The Stroller

High School Seniors, Welcome!

You've probably heard about me on this campus. Practically everyone in northwest Missouri has heard of me, for I am the old boy who "gets around" and sees all and tells all. Now when you (most of you) come over next year, there may be things you may be able to hide, but not all things. After all, that's what my column is—a column of other people's doings and other people's business—and you know something? They love it!

Anyhow, I want you to know that you are welcome on this second annual High School Senior Day.

And Clark was there and the Kansas City boyfriend was there. Hello, Louise, may we come too?

The Stroller learned some things from the International Relations club meeting at Sioux Falls which had very little, if any thing at all to do with International Relations when our representatives weren't attending meetings and giving their speeches they sort of forgot all about social science.

Catterson especially—In no time at all he had endeared himself to the hearts of five (5) women who each wept copiously when he left. The Stroller wonders if they made separate appointments or decided to turn it into a group meeting. Lorraine, did however make one interesting discovery. That is that the complexion of northwest girls doesn't rub off.

The Stroller is uncertain on this next point. You'll have to ask Lindberg herself how she spent her time between meetings. If you find out definitely, leave information in the office. I can only say she didn't give all her time to International Relations.

Warren had never written any poetry until he went to Sioux Falls. But something in the atmosphere something about the county around there opened his soul and his fountain pen and before he knew it he was versifying. How did she like it, Warren? But heck! I don't suppose you'd tell. And Warren, learn to back more carefully off toll bridges.

Harry, I heard nothing of your escapade. You must have sworn everybody into secrecy. Come, come—get garrulous! It will be too late for next week's column.

Dorothy Sandison is in a spot. Swede's monopoly is being challenged by his own fraternity brother! One evening this fraternity brother—Bob is his name—said, "Swede, may I have a date tonight?" (He had to ask because Swede is his "pledge father") Swede replied that it depended on the girl. "She's all right, I know" Bob chattered. (He was getting scared) "Maybe so," said Swede, getting more and more fatherly, "but before you can have a date I have to know who she is!"

"It's Dorothy," confessed Bob in very small letters.

Somehow or other that date never did materialize.

I am glad that Paul Person has finally gotten a frat pin, because before long he ought to be passing out cigars and candy bars.

Betty Bosch has done right well for herself this Leap Year, cause she has started her hope chest. I hear that the Iowa boy friend has a pretty good job.

I hear that Va. Ann Place had two dates a week ago last Saturday night. The first lasted till 11 o'clock and the second date—even I don't know. Nice goin' Miss Place. Are you trying to act like "Rosy" Venric?

I'm wondering whether or not it is necessary for Henry Robinson to have his girl friend's dress cleaned? Little Henry is the bright lad who thoughtfully suggested that Dr. Stall was at the present time, dead.

Also I've been wondering why it is that Bea Lemon and Margaret Porter insist upon kissing each other?

Last Friday a certain red-haired graduate was seen back in College visiting some of the music department. And the next day the second tenor on our varsity quartette was missing. Morris evidently decided that the sight was too much for him, so he spent the week-end in Mound City.

Speaking of the quartette, they behaved quite disrespectfully at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Monday evening, so I was told. How can you boys expect to sing after drinking six bottles of —er—pop apiece?

R. T. Sidner, you must learn to not break your engagements. That just isn't gentleman-like you know. Also I would advise R. T. to take an alarm clock to class with him.

It looks as though the Bolckow school teacher Mr. Ford, has been sticking too close to his school teaching. It is apparent that he has lost out entirely, all of which seems quite satisfactory to Helen and Virgil.

Reunions of the week: William Somerville and his ex-girl friend from Savannah; and Bo Sipes and Vivien Fordyce, the most perfect school teacher in Bo's opinion anyway.

Mr. Wright was seen leading around two high school girls this week. Explain yourself John. Perhaps John likes them young and innocent.

I heard that Miss Lewis and the "Great Neil" went to town Tuesday night.

One would think that a freshman by now would know that it is incorrect to say "hello" to a faculty member. (He should say howdy-do?) Much less when he is calling the roll. How about it, Miss Woodside?

Why did R. T. Sidner go to the Granada Wednesday nite? Who called—who is she—why wasn't she there?—Let's have it all, R. T.

FREDERICK SCHNEIDER
Editor, Northwest Missourian

Today, Monday, March 6, the College is host to a great number of high school seniors who have responded to the invitation of the committee in charge to attend the second annual High School Senior Day. Speaking for the entire College, this newspaper extends to those one-day guests a most hearty welcome and our hopes that they will find the day both profitable and entertaining. We feel sure that they will find the day profitable and entertaining, for those two purposes have been the upmost of importance in the minds of those College faculty members and students who have had a part in planning this day.

High school seniors, feel assured that this is YOUR day at the College. Everything scheduled to happen today has been scheduled for your sake—the assemblies, the tours of the campus, the exhibits, the dancing, the luncheon—in fact everything has been planned just for YOU! College students are at your service today; for example, despite the fact that there is to be approximately 1500 of you here today, College students will attend classes today, not only for their benefit, but for YOURS. They hope that you may get an idea of how college classes are conducted and, perhaps, learn something of the subject matter being discussed. Another example of College students being at your service is the fact that a great many of them will conduct you in tours over the campus pointing out items of importance and of interest. A great many other examples could be pointed out in this connection, but we shall leave it to you to decide to what extent we have been of service to you during the day. Nevertheless, the students DO hope you enjoy your visit here, and are doing everything they can to see that you do enjoy it.

We must not, however, forget the faculty members, for it is they who are responsible for plans of the day. Every faculty member, from President Lamkin on through the list, has planned the day so that it will be most profitable to you. They too welcome you here today!

Last year, about one thousand high school seniors from northwest Missouri responded to the invitation of the College to attend the first High School Senior Day, and many of those seniors are this year freshmen in our school here. The Day last year was exceedingly successful, and those freshmen of the College who were high school seniors here last year have expressed most favorable opinions of the Day. We feel sure that you will express opinions comparable to those after you have spent the day here.

This special edition of the Missourian contains descriptions of interesting exhibitions and activities to be carried on at the College today. We hope that it may be of the greatest assistance to you throughout the day, for it was published especially for you.

We hope to see you all here on the campus next year.

A BIG QUESTION

Of the thousands of high school seniors who graduate in the spring, there are very few of them who will not be confronted with one of the biggest questions in the world today. That question is that of just how much educational training he should have to be most advantageous in pursuing his career.

An easy answer to that question is not available, and like answers to most other questions, must be worked out and thought out by the person himself. We should say that the first thing to be done—and a thing to be done immediately upon graduation from high school, or before—is to determine the vocation into which the person definitely wishes to enter. Having done this, a student will have progressed more in answering his question than a great many college men and women have done even after four years of higher education.

That is not by any means the answer to the question. According to a definition of the word "advantageous," we find that it means "being in a superior position," and according to that definition, we conclude that a person must have more education than the average person has. If a person has an eighth grade education, another must have a high school education to be in a superior position; if a person has a high school education, another must have a college education to be in a superior position. One step ahead of our competitors should be our desire.

We feel that to be one step ahead of competitors is to have a college education. Almost everyone, these days is able to graduate from high school, and it is looked upon as a common right to be able to attend a secondary school. It is a wonderful thing to be able to graduate from a high school, but it is even more wonderful to be able to graduate from a college or university.

It is said that two per cent of our young people receive a degree from college, so it is those of the two percent who are in superior position. Many say things to the effect that it is discouraging that when a person graduates from college these days, he is most usually out of work. True, a great number of college graduates are unemployed during the slump of the depression, but when jobs come back—and jobs are coming back with returning prosperity—it will be the college graduate who receives the best position.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

The elementary education conference held at the College last Saturday was approved by a great crowd of educators who attended that day. Many of them declared it one of the best conferences they had ever attended.

Comments made by the visitors in regard to the speakers who had prominent places on the program were most complimentary. All in all, the conference was a splendid success.

Our compliments are extended to the members of the Bearcat track team who went to Columbia last Friday and won second in the MIAA indoor track meet. Our compliments are also extended to the Cape Girardeau Indians for their splendid exhibitions in the events.

If any one member of the track team should receive a little extra bunch of orchids, we believe it should be Herschel Neil. This Bearcat star finished first in both the 440- and 60-yard dashes, finishing the 60 in a new record-breaking time, 6 2-10 seconds—just a fraction short of the world's recognized record of 6 1-10 seconds.

A change in the weekly assembly program last week proved quite interesting to students in the College. The pictures of people of the College of yesterday and today proved to be quite an entertaining feature.

Mr. Wright's pictures of Germany also proved interesting and educational.

HEROES OF AMERICAN HISTORY

THE FATHER of the AMERICAN NAVY

Jones was born in Scotland, his real name being John Paul. He was reared on the sea, and at the outbreak of the American Revolution he equipped a small fleet to harass English shipping. His surprise attacks and daring coups struck terror in the hearts of the British and earned the sympathy of Europe for the American cause.

The encounter between Jones's ship, the "Bon Homme Richard," and the British frigate, the "Serapis," was one of the most famous sea engagements of history in a fierce three-and-a-half-hour battle, fought by moonlight. Jones, his own ship badly shattered, nevertheless forced his superior opponent to strike her colors.

After the war, Jones was invited by Russia to build up her navy. Discredited through the jealousy of the Russian officers, he returned to Paris, where he died. In 1913 his body was belatedly brought to America to be buried at Annapolis.

College Thirty Years Old This End of Quarter

At the end of the Spring quarter, 1936, the College will have completed thirty years of educational activity.

On March 25, 1905 Governor Joseph W. Folk authorized the establishment of a State Normal School, to serve nineteen counties of Missouri which had formerly belonged to the first district.

Mr. Edmund McWilliams was appointed a member of the commission to decide on the location for the new Normal School. The commission selected Maryville and announced the tender on the part of Maryville and Nodaway County of 86 acres of land and $58,000 in cash.

In a short time a board of regents was appointed which met in Maryville September 12 and effected an organization. Members of the first board of regents were: Charles J. Colden, Maryville; I. R. Williams, Savannah; A. H. Vandivert, Bethany; William F. Ranken, Tarkio; James C. Tracy, Mound City; W. D. Rusk, St. Joseph; and William T. Carrington, state superintendent of schools, Jefferson City, ex-officio member.

At a meeting of the Board of regents in St. Joseph, Jan. 4, 1906, Professor Frank Deerwester of the State Normal School at Warrensburg was chosen president of the institution. Members of the first faculty were selected March 13, 1906.

Mr. George H. Colbert, chairman of the present department of mathematics, was a member of the first faculty. June 13, 1906 the first school session began in the Central School building. The enrollment for this nine weeks session was 273.

The fall term opened in the building on the Normal grounds known as the "Seminary Building," formerly occupied by the Maryville Seminary.

Mr. Homer Martien Cook was elected president of the College in 1907. Mr. T. H. Cook, present instructor in the social science department, was chosen a member of the faculty the same year. The new administration building was completed in 1910, and Dr. H. K. Taylor became president.

Mr. Ira Richardson was elected president in 1913 and served until 1921 when Mr. Uel W. Lamkin became president of the College.

In 1919 the state legislature passed a law changing the name from Normal School to the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. At this time it became possible for the school to grant the degree of B. S. in Education.

Since then the school has developed rapidly. Appropriations for a women's dormitory were made by the State Legislature in 1921. New buildings have been erected during the years and the institution has continued to grow, in number of students, courses offered, and number of faculty.

Bureau's Influence on Economic Relations."

Clarence A. Berdahl, professor of political science at the University of Illinois, who was one of the speakers at the conference said, "I doubt I could have found four students in the University of Illinois who would have done as complete a piece of work as the four from the Missouri State Teachers College."

Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, director of International Relations clubs said, "I don't know whether to attribute the success of the reports to Dr. Foster or the students, but I do know that they did an unusually good job. Their delivery was remarkable."

The professor of economics at Dakota Wesleyan said, "I thought the discussion group led by the students from the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College the most thorough piece of work I heard."

The professor of political science at Dakota State College stated, "I had no doubt but that the students knew their work. It was the cleanest piece of student thinking I heard during the conference."

President Uel W. Lamkin was in Washington, D. C. the first part of last week in connection with his work as Secretary-General of the World Federation of Education Associations.

One Year Ago

The most talked of event was the Junior-Senior prom. It was a great success, being held in a ship (West Library), with shore leave, furlough, log books and everything.

One hundred and fifty enrolled with the Committee on Recommendations to secure teaching positions.

Four College students went to Rosendale to officiate at contests in dramatics and music for grade pupils.

Miss Olive DeLuce announced that the classes in commercial art would print names on diplomas for high schools.

A wide range of subjects was planned for the short course.

It was announced that twenty-four members of the College faculty had served more than ten years.

The senate was to sponsor an April Fool party, very informal.

The debate team journeyed to Cape Girardeau, staying in the tournament through the semifinals. They had made three previous journeys.

There were thirty candidates out for spring football practice.

Miss Margaret Stephenson was in charge of a group who went to Kansas City soon to see Helen Hayes in Mary of Scotland.

Hello, Seniors! Study hard. Place yourself at the head of the list when your honor roll is published this spring and you'll make yourself eligible for associate membership in Alpha Phi Sigma next fall if you enter college. What is Alpha Phi Sigma? It's a national honorary scholastic fraternity which recognizes high scholarship. Valedictorians and salutatorians are given associate membership and are made active members after they have shown for a stated time their ability to do a high type of college work. The organization especially sponsors scholarship in high schools.

College Farm is Important Unit

One of the least talked about and one of the important cogs in the machinery of the College is the farm. There is a total of 320 acres in the campus of the College, the farm comprises 248 acres altogether. The remaining 72 acres form the campus proper of the College.

The farm is operated for a two-fold purpose: first, to furnish material for practical field study and demonstrations for agriculture classes, and second, to furnish a supply of quality products for the College cafeteria. Milk, eggs, poultry, and vegetables are the products furnished to Residence Hall.

The farm consists of six approximately equal fields of about 27 acres each, which are farmed to the standard rotation of corn, wheat, oats, and clover. In addition to these fields there are four different pastures and two alfalfa fields.

The livestock maintained on the farm includes a purebred herd of Jersey cows, a purebred herd of Poland-China hogs, a purebred herd of Shropshire sheep, all of which are registered or are eligible to registration. A flock of purebred White Leghorns are also kept on the farm. The greenhouse is also an integral part of the agriculture department of the College. The greenhouse is essentially a hot-bed and is really vastly superior to the ordinary hot-bed in every way. The greenhouse is used the year around at the College and it enables the College to have a much earlier garden due to the fact that all late maturing plants may be started in the greenhouse. Students learn here the operation of hot-beds and also of cold-frames. Some produce is grown for the cafeteria. The classes in landscape gardening can learn of the various plants and their culture by making use of the greenhouse. Many also learn much about flowers and become excellent florists. There are a number of palms and other decorative plants that are raised in the greenhouse for the purpose of providing decorations and flowers for college functions.

The greenhouse also houses a number of tropical plants that few of the students would have an opportunity of seeing. Among them are a banana tree, a grapefruit tree and a lemon tree. It is too bad these are not bearing fruit now but with patience we may soon all be able to use it.

Another part of the job of the agriculture department has been the planting of trees of various sorts. A new orchard has just been set out this spring and there are also a number of trees that have been set out for decoration and landscaping purposes. This group of trees number fifty and each tree has been marked with a small metal tag which tells the genus the species of the tree. Thus every tree on the campus can be instantly and surely identified. This is in accordance with the policy of all good gardeners that a garden is not a good garden unless everything is marked and its name and purpose specifically known.

Intramural Soft Ball League May Have Six Teams

Cold weather, coupled with forfeits of several of the weaker teams has temporarily interrupted play in the Intramural Softball League. Nine teams entered the League, but there is a possibility that two or three may be withdrawn. If the League is reduced to a six club circuit, a double round robin schedule may be played. The two games already played may be canceled and the play begun over.

In the opening game, Crow's Mules met the Sigma Mu Delta fraternity, and vanquished the Greeks by a score of 17 to 2. The game was marked by hard hitting and listless defensive play on both sides. In the second game, the Puritan Club walloped the Gexbirds 14 to 4. The Puritans did not extend themselves, but showed plenty of power. The rest of the games were forfeited by Graves' Gashouse Gang, Keiffer's Fr. Riley Scholars, and the Y.M.C.A. As a result, all three of these clubs may be dropped from the circuit.

At the present time, two clubs seem to stand head and shoulders above the field. The Puritan Club offers the most powerful team to be seen on the campus for several years. The battery of Woodside and Roy Brown are a big and husky pair. The infielders, John Wright, Huntsman, Sipes, Miller Brown, and Hicks are not only fair fielders but powerful with the stick. Hunter appears to be one of the best outfielders seen in several seasons, and with him in the outer gardens is Molitoris, Stalcup, Carter, Walter Moore and Flanders, who also can turn a hand behind the plate. All of the Fourth Streeters are big and powerful hitters and all can throw well. Fielding is the only possible weakness of this aggregation.

Crow's Mules also offer formidable opposition to all comers. No team in the circuit can offer so fast and sure a defense. In the season's opening game, this club played errorless ball. Blessed with a wealth of pitching and catching talent, the team lacks only the hitting of the Puritans to make it the best of the field. Craft and D. Moore do the receiving for the Long Ears with Zuchowski, Ray Roberts, and Waterman doing the mound duty. Palumbo, Tennent, Harris and W. Moore are the infield group with Bernau, Goza, Yates, Krattli, and a pitcher filling the outfield.

The Sigma Tau Gamma is expected to live up to their fine reputation despite the apparent lack of a pitcher. Members of the club are Hunt, Rhoades, Rulon, Morgan, Coverdell, Stenger, Sharp, Poynter, Loudon, Seyster, and others. The other fraternity, the Sigma Mu Delta is also handicapped in the pitching department, Wales and Berger have thrown for the club but are far from sensational. P. Person, H. Person, Christenson, Holt, Lawler, Wells, Heath, Fracker, and Cox are members of this team.

The Gexbirds are in their second season with a clever bunch of players suffering only from the lack of power. Shisler and Geyer are a capable battery and Gex, Beedle, Sims, Gray, Irvine, Woodruff, Brock and several more comprise the roster of the Birds.

Brewer's Sod Busters are a new team of untried ability, but seem to have a good deal of force. C. Roberts, Shrout, Kauffman, Duncan, Claybaugh, Link, Hartley and Whitt are members of the Sod-Busters.

Little is known of the other clubs, but these six mentioned should furnish the basis for a strong and well-rounded league. With a little practice and experience some of the clubs rated low may come through to knock the favorites off their perch, but barring accidents, it will be mainly a race between the Puritan Club's sluggers and the hustling Mules of Pat Crow.

Children In Primary to Present Operetta

Children of the Kindergarten and Primary department of the College Training School, under the direction of Miss Chloe Millikan, supervisor, will present their annual operetta, Tuesday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock in the College auditorium. The title of the operetta this year will be "The Land of Dreams Come True."

The play is divided into two acts, the scene of the first being a playground at the edge of a forest, and the second the exterior of Mother Goose's home. The story opens with a group of children enjoying a holiday at a playground at the edge of a forest. One small girl refuses to join in the fun and seems to be searching diligently for something. When questioned she explains that she is searching for magic berries, which when eaten by mortals, enable them to enter a Land of Dreams-Come-True.

After a prolonged search she finds enough berries for each of her play-mates; but most of her friends become frightened and refuse to try the experiment. Four of the children, however, swallow the berries, and soon fall into a deep sleep.

Eight pixies then steal quietly from the near-by forest. With magic incantations, throwing of star dust and other weird procedures, they awaken the sleeping children and lead them away, promising to take them to the Land of Dreams-Come-True.

In the Land of Dreams-Come-True the four "Earth" children meet Mother Goose and the Old Woman who lived in a shoe. These, in turn, introduce them to a number of their own children; Bo Peep, Jack Horner, and others. Mother Goose entertains the little mortals by telling them certain facts regarding her family which "Earth" people have not known heretofore. Mary, charged with being too contrary to raise garden-flowers, proves her ability to do so by displaying her group of animated roses, blue-bells, etc.

In the midst of the fun and frolic, the giant's voice is heard in the distance proclaiming that he smells the blood of Englishmen, and terrified lest they be captured the fair "Earth" children attempt to flee. They find themselves surrounded by the Mother Goose people; and though they fight against it, they are unable to ward off the charm that they know is being laid on them. In the center of the magic circle, they once again sink into a deep sleep, as the wonderland people chant a lullaby.

The music in the operetta has been under the direction of Miss Helen Crahan while the drama and dance portions have been under the direction of Miss Margaret Sutton. Elaborate costumes have been planned for the operetta and an evening's entertainment of the first magnitude is promised. A small admission charge of twenty-five cents will be required.

International Club to Meet Thursday

A meeting of the International Relations Club will be held next Thursday evening, April 9, in Social Hall. Members of the delegation attending the Sioux Falls Conference of International Relations Clubs will give a resume of the conference. Eugene Huff, new president of the club, will preside.

Thus far the club has had a very successful year in this, its first year in existence. Its programs have been varied and interesting. Everyone has been given a chance to express his own ideas on subjects of interest to all. There has been no absence of purpose among those taking part in the discussions. They wish to make the world a peaceful, secure place in which to live.

Next year this College will be host to the Mississippi Valley Conference of International Relations club. Preparation is being made already to make the conference a success. Representatives from probably eighty-nine colleges that are members of this region will attend the conference. The major part of the conference work is carried on in round table discussion groups. Experience has shown that these groups provoke an intelligent discussion of problems of national and international scope. There were nine discussion groups held at the 1936 conference.

Dr. Henry A. Foster is the founder of the College International Relations Club. He is chairman of the department of social science in the College. Just recently, his new book, "The Making of Modern Iraq", has received much favorable comment in academic circles.

Prevention of Crime is Subject of Talk

"The Prevention of Crime" was discussed by Dr. O. Myking Mehus of the department of sociology at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, at a meeting held at Burlington Junction on Monday evening, March 30. He said in part:

"An article in one of our metropolitan papers yesterday indicated that the real public enemy No. 1 was 'Ma' Barker who died clutching a machine gun. She was the mother of four boys—two who in are penitentiary and two are dead. The story of her life shows clearly that the training in the home was such that it was to be expected that they would grow up to be criminals. When her boys were rowdy youngsters who broke windows and did petty thieving, instead of reprimanding them she made tirades against the accusers."

"Today the students of criminology are convinced from their studies that criminals are not born criminals but become criminals through their environment and early training. Poverty plays a big part in crime. In fact, Professor E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin has said that if we can eliminate poverty we could eliminate 80% of our crime. Broken homes are also an important factor in crime."

What THEY Think Of "Time Marches On"

C. P. Davis, senior—"I think the assembly was very interesting. We wouldn't be confronted with compulsory attendance at assembly if more like this were provided."

Warren Crow, senior—"A very good program, however we should have seen a picture of Mr. Davis with an extra-large fish."

Lois Neff, senior—"Seeing a few of the highspots in the lives of our instructors and the College gives us a personal feeling for our instructors and a better appreciation of our College. A laugh is good for the soul."

Marvin Steinmetz, sophomore—"It was a very unique program. I enjoyed it because it was a change."

Darryl Waggoner, sophomore—"It was very very good. We should have more like it. Miss Stephenson's courier looked charming."

Elaine Bender, freshman—"We should have programs of this type more often and of more length."

Lou E. Turpin, freshman—"It was very clever and very interesting."

Clark Lyle, freshman—"It was very appropriate for April 1. Variety is the spice of life."

Kathryn Castillo, freshman—"I especially enjoyed the pictures of teachers I am acquainted with."

Jean Nickle, freshman—"That was the 'cat's meow'."

Roma Benthien, freshman—"People surely do change as time goes on—or things."

Major Bowes Comes to Missouri Theater

"All right!" Attention all you radio amateur fans! Major Bowes unit No. 6 is coming to town! And with him is 16 people who will present in eight acts a 45-minute program, in addition to Clair Trivor and Paul Kelly in "Song and Dance Man." There will be a matinee at 3:45, and two evening programs beginning at 7:15.

Zell Thompson, recent amateur St. Joseph KFEQ winner, will be featured along with several selections by the college varsity quartette. This novel program will be Monday only so don't fail to see it.

"Hitch Hike Lady" comes to the Missouri Tuesday and Wednesday, featuring Alison Skipworth as a grand dame who thumbs her way through the U.S.A. to high adventure. There are no speed limits for this queen of the highway and she saves the happiness of the two brave hearts through her love and devotion.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday brings "Professional Soldier" starring Freddie Bartholomew and Victor McLaglen, the man with a chip on his shoulder, and a machine-gun on his hip. You will laugh at his bragging and thrill to his deeds as he risks his life for a lad who believed him.

"Lovely Lady", "Shooting High" and "Too Good to be True" are the names of some of the entrancing hits "King of Burlesque" features beginning next Saturday night, April 10. Warner Baxter, Alice Faye and Jack Oakie head the all-star cast of this musical drama.

Dr. Foster's Book Grows In Esteem

Dr. Henry A. Foster, chairman of the department of social science, received word last week that his book, "The Making of Modern Iraq", which was recently published by the Oklahoma Press has been selected for publication in England by Williams and Norgate, London.

This is the first book published in Oklahoma which has been chosen for reissuance in Great Britain, according to Joseph A. Brandt, director of the Oklahoma Press.

"The Making of Modern Iraq" was first issued in September, 1935, and through a large number of favorable reviews appearing in foreign as well as American journals was brought to the attention of English publishers. The book deals with the post-war history of Iraq, whose liberation from Turkish rule was partly the fruit of the revolt of desert tribesmen of Arabia led by Col. T. E. Lawrence.

Iraq itself is the first graduate of the League of Nations mandate system, having terminated its mandate under England to become free country in 1932.

Maryville Wins Second Place In Columbia Meet

While Cape Girardeau was taking points in all but two events to mass 48 1-5 points to win the M.I.A.A. indoor conference track meet at Columbia last Friday night, Herschel Neil of Maryville took high point honors, broke two records and aided the Bearcats to take second place in the meet.

Maryville was second with 20 1-10 points, trailed by Warrensburg with 17 and 7-20, Springfield 16 3-5, Rolla Miners 16 and Kirksville 13%.

Neil set a new record in the 60-yard dash, in 6.2 seconds, and the 440 in 53.4 seconds. He was also second in the broad jump being defeated by only 1/4 of an inch for first place by McGregor of Rolla.

Other place winners in the meet for the Bearcats were McMullin, a freshman, third in the mile. Green and Tracy tied for third place in the high jump. Rhoads took a third and fourth in the hurdles, and Moore tied with several others for third place in the high jump.

All but two of the old records of the meet were broken.

DOPE BUCKET

By J. O. KING

After the state meet held last week in Columbia, I can say I told you so in most of the events—but of course there were a few mistakes and several have told me so—

Springfield has several men they are grooming to win first when the conference outdoor meet is held late in May. But according to information received here there will be little chance of dethroning the present champs, unless someone learns how to hurdle well enough to keep Cape from coming up with first and second both.

The Baxter at Kirksville is the same one that holds the conference record in the shot and discus at the present time. It was two years ago when he set these records, and because of an unavoidable delay he was kept from school for two years. Now he is back and I will say that just as soon as he gets into shape there will be a new conference champ in the shot put and discus throw, and it will be Baxter.

That takes a few points from Cape and adds them to Kirksville, but Cape isn't hurt and will be hard to hurt. They almost have the conference meet won—I wonder?

Maryville is slightly stronger in track this season than a year ago, but they still have a long way to go before they match the power of that well balanced Cape team.

Could it be that Ferguson of Cape is slowing down after being ruler of the distance events in the conference for three years—what could have happened to him?

Anyhow it can be said he is one of the gamest, the hardest fighting, and the best sportsman the M.I.A.A. has ever had.

Rolla has some good track men and may bear watching when it comes time for the conference meet.

Their distance men did real well at the indoor, and their high jumper received the surprise of his life. Now who would have thought Lange couldn't win the conference meet easily? Well—who thought anything else—we all gave him first place and didn't say maybe.

How can a track team work out—there is another big snow in Maryville and its cold again—take note Springfield—

Exhibition In Swimming To Be On Program

At ten o'clock this morning and again this afternoon at three o'clock there will be a swimming and life saving exhibition given at the gymnasium in the College pool.

The program is sponsored by the women's physical education department, with the assistance of Walter Wade and Justin King.

The women taking part in the program are: Jessie Jutten, Beatrice Leeson, Lucy Mae Benson, College women and Mary Bruce of the College grade school. Miss Waggoner of the women's Physical Education department is in charge of the program.

The program is to consist of swimming, life guard work, demonstrations, in strokes, diving, etc. There will also be fancy diving, and antics carried on by the entire group.

The purpose of this program is to instruct the visitors in the use made of the College pool, and also to entertain them with some of the things that are a daily part of the physical education work.

The life guard work will be that which is required to gain Senior Red Cross Life Saving cards, and will serve both as entertainment and as educational value.

Neil is Leading Man In Bearcat Track Players

During the last two seasons, Herschel Neil has proved to be one of the outstanding track men of the state.

It will be remembered that in his high school days Neil was a winner in five events and the winner of the Northwest Missouri and State class C trackmeets, this feat being accomplished during his senior year in high school.

Since coming to College, Herschel has proved his worth as the best track man that ever attended this College. During his freshman year here Neil ran the dashes, broad jump, high pump and ran on both winning relay teams, for the team.

In the state meet that year he set a new record in the 100 yard dash of 9.7 seconds and tied the record in the 220 yard dash. He placed in the high jump and was second in the broad jump beating the old record in this event. He also ran on the two winning relay teams, both of which set a record. Neil was a most valuable member of the champion team that year but last season he was more valuable.

For the past two seasons the Bearcats have been undefeated in dual competition, and last season most of the burden fell on Neil. With his regular events he ran the 440 part of the time, and was high point man in every meet last season including the conference meet held at Kirksville.

To start his third year of track for the Bearcats, Neil has already established himself as the class of the M.I.A.A. when he out-ran the field in the 60-yard dash and the 440-yard dash at the state indoor meet at Columbia last week.

Yes! Neil is Maryville's outstanding track man.

The Maryville Bearcat trackers will face stiff competition before the state meet to be held in Springfield late in the spring. There are several meets already scheduled, but the dates are not settled as yet.

There will be a meet with Tarkio next week, several of the men will be taken to Kansas Relays and the Drake relays.

There is a meet scheduled with Warrensburg and maybe one with Kirksville, but they will follow the Relays and are not settled as yet.

April the 15 and 16, the M.I.A.A. conference meet will be held in Springfield.

juniors; Gara Williams and Bruce Coffman, sophomores; and Allan Kelso and Rebecca Foley, freshmen.

This is the third all-school party the committee has sponsored this year. They have also held four afternoon dances in Social Hall.

The Social Committee is sponsored by the Student Senate, student government organization. Besides appointing the Committee members the Senate was created for the purpose of co-operating with the faculty in matters pertaining to the welfare of the student body. With the aid of faculty committees the Senate controls clubs, social functions, the activity calendar, student government finance, elections, and campus discipline and other campus activities.

Dean Miller, senior from Maryville, was elected president of the Senate this fall by unanimous vote of the student body. He presides over meetings of the Senate and appoints committees of this body.

Max Seyster, senior and also from Maryville, was chosen vice-president. It is his duty to preside at meetings in the absence of the president.

Each of the upper classes elects three Senators to represent them in the Senate in the fall quarter. One Senator is elected for three quarters, one for two and one for one-quarter term. At the beginning of the winter quarter the one-term Senator is re-elected or replaced by a member elected for two quarters. The freshman class elects two members for a two term office at the beginning of the winter quarter.

Miss Minnie B. James, instructor in commerce, is sponsor of the organization this year.

ing, and to enter a newspaper, feature story, news story, sports story, editorial, and poem in the contests there. Last year the medal offered by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for the best feature story was won by John L. Ford of Maryville.

Each year the "Missourian" sponsors a "Scoop Dance." This year the annual dance was held on St. Valentine's Day. The feature of the dance was the presentation of the Tower queens.

Frederick Schneider, sophomore, of Stanberry, is Editor of The Northwest Missourian. This is his second year as a member of the staff.

H.S. Seniors to See Campus On Tours

has worked out specific instruction sheets to help them in taking students over direct routes to the places of interest, where other students or teachers explain further or give special information.

When the group of visitors have been assigned to the guide and he has registered the fact that he is taking a certain number of students from a particular place at the information desk, the party then makes a tour of the spacious Administration building to visit the library, social hall, the laboratories, art rooms, and other points of interest on each of the four floors of the building.

Leaving the Administration building at the West Entrance the guides point out the pine grove, the Memorial Drive, the College Park and the many varieties of trees in this section of the Campus and then directs the way to the College Farm which is under the management of Mr. R. T. Wright, instructor in the agriculture department of the College.

After being shown the farm, the modern buildings, experimental projects and the stock, the groups are being taken along the south side of the old athletic field north of the Administration Building to see the plants and experiments at the Greenhouse. From there they will go to the power plant, where they will make a tour of the building and receive explanations from one of the workers at the power house. They will also visit the industrial arts building, which is near the power plant, and will have the opportunity to observe an exhibition planned by the industrial arts students.

From this point the seniors will be taken to visit Residence Hall, where 130 college women live. While at Residence Hall the students will visit the College cafeteria, the Conservatory of Music practice rooms, and the Parlors.

When the groups leave Residence Hall they make their way to the College Gymnasium by way of the "short cut" across the campus, north of the President's residence. On the way to the gymnasium the students will view the new lake and the tennis courts.

They will also be asked to notice the trees along the College Drive and the Long Walk, the Sun Dial, the setting for the May Festivals.

Students are being given the opportunity to see the gymnasium, which is one of the best in the state, with its excellent swimming pool, offices and classrooms and playing floor.

From the gymnasium they go to the new athletic field, which is equipped for night games and night track meets, and then by the way of the west walk they will return to the Administration building.

The civilization of a race is simply the sum total of its achievement in adjusting itself to its environment.—Dr. Hu Shih

I want my cigarette mild, of course—I hardly think anybody enjoys a strong cigarette. But deliver me from the flat, insipid kind.

I find a great deal of pleasure in Chesterfields. They're mild and yet they seem to have more taste and aroma. I enjoy them.
